Here's what's coming in the February issue of Compliance & Ethics Professional

And for prospective SCCE members, here's a peek at what you're missing. Don't miss out on another issue of Compliance & Ethics Professional. Become an SCCE member and receive this monthly magazine, valuable compliance and ethics resources, discounts on events, and much more. Click here to join SCCE today.

Meet Jeanine Hubler and Bonnie Bass Compliance and Ethics at Abt Associates

– An interview by Marjorie Doyle

Anti-corruption compliance: Five ways good certification can help

– by Alexandra Almy

By communicating about its compliance program, a company shows it is willing to do business with transparency and integrity.

Corporate hoarders: Implementing a record retention and destruction program

Also available on these devices

– by Walter E. Johnson
Asking the right questions, developing policies, and providing the right tools are key to changing behaviors and getting storage areas cleaned out.

Increasing ethical awareness “on a dime”

– by Kim Neal
Ten tips for making your employees more aware of their ethical obligations without breaking the budget.

Future data breaches: What to do now so you’ll know what to do then

– by Kristy Grant-Hart
Having a plan, a rapid response team, and notification templates in place can help you prepare for the worst.

Letter from the CEO

I want you to read this article because I want to impact your influencing skills

– by Roy Snell

The other side of the story

Key findings of OECD Foreign Bribery Report

– by Shin Jae Kim

EU compliance and regulation

EU Data Protection trust marks and seals—Not yet signed and delivered!

– by Robert Bond

A view from abroad

No more hiding behind the rogues

– by Sally March

Social Skills

Locating workplace issues on social media

– by Melody Haase

Compliance, life, and everything else

The Convergence of FCPA and Security

– by Thomas R. Fox

The last word

If we can’t break the law, then give us a better idea!

– by Joe Murphy

Good judgment comes from experience—and a

Online

Android

iPhone/iPad

Kindle

lot of that comes from bad judgment

– by Frank J. Navran
Leaders who are risk-tolerant can use teachable moments as stepping-stones to improve the company culture.

Data localization requirements: Growing trends and impact for company compliance

– by Jan Dhont and Katherine Woodcock
Any company that uses the Internet or web-based technologies may be affected by laws passed by several countries to keep data processing within their borders.

Compliance Committee Organization

– by Margaret Steenrod and Paula Saddler
Ten factors to consider as you weigh the effectiveness of your compliance committee and its role in board oversight.

Custom campaigns: How bespoke eLearning campaigns are reshaping compliance training

– by Kate Pasterfield
Creative ideas for customizing your compliance training to make it anything but boring.

Happy 10th Anniversary to SCCE, "Our Powerful Friend"!

– by Donna Boehme
The compliance profession is emerging with worldwide recognition as an independent, indispensable, and unique corporate discipline.

Compliance & Ethics Professional readers can earn CCB CEUs by reading selected pieces and taking a short quiz for each issue of the magazine.

Society of Corporate Compliance & Ethics
6500 Barrie Road, Suite 250
Minneapolis, MN 55435
United States of America
888-277-4977 |
service@corporatecompliance.org www.corporatecompliance.org