

Here's what's coming in the March issue of Compliance & Ethics Professional

And for prospective SCCE members, here's a peek at what you're missing. Don't miss out on another issue of Compliance & Ethics Professional. Become an SCCE member and receive this monthly magazine, valuable compliance and ethics resources, discounts on events, and much more. Click here to join SCCE today.

How Ernst & Young is training its Brazilian team

– An interview by Adam Turteltaub

Eight steps in launching an information governance program

– by Mark Diamond

Poor information practices can hamper business success, while good ones promote innovation, ensure compliance, and enhance strategic agility.

Also available on these devices

The dominant CEO: Great for business and terrible for compliance?

— by Ted Banks

By comparing the management styles of Warren Buffet and Steve Jobs, we can learn how “tone at the top” affects a company’s culture and compliance program.

Myths of anti-corruption compliance

— by Alison Taylor

Widespread inertia within corrupt company practices reflects an implicit belief that discovery and enforcement “won’t happen here.”

Compliance dilemma: It takes disruption to beat corruption

— by Geert Aalbers

Five things to consider to ensure your company can withstand scrutiny from activists, investigative journalists, governments, and political organizations.

Letter from the CEO

Corporate Compliance & Ethics Week is moving

— by Roy Snell

Ethics vs. or AND Compliance

Sexual harassment training: The law doesn’t get you there

— by Steven Priest—New Columnist

Empirically speaking

What’s in your “compliance anxiety closet”?

— by Ronnie Kann—New Columnist

View from the front lines

Protect your career as an investigator

— by Meric Craig Bloch

Kaplan’s court

Compliance law and compliance culture

— by Jeffrey M. Kaplan

Social Skills

Public records: You, the real MVP

— by Melody Haase

The art of compliance

Brother, can you spare a dime?

— by Art Weiss

The last word

Things that don't make sense: "Culture trumps compliance"

– by Joe Murphy

Schoolings from the GSK China verdict

– by Thomas R. Fox

GlaxoSmithKline's compliance failures in China may well turn out to be a turning point in the annals of international anti-corruption prosecutions.

Guest or pest: Lessons from The Wolf

– by Walter E. Johnson

The movie Pulp Fiction can give us some insight into the kind of reception a compliance officer might receive when there are problems to be resolved.

Building the ship while sailing: Developing teams at the CEI

– by Donna Boehme

How to leverage the resources of the Compliance & Ethics Institute to support your team's training and professional development, even after the event.

An insider's look: The Antitrust Division's playbook

– by Robert E. Connolly

Paying attention to similarities in your own products, supply chain, and markets when a competitor is under regulatory investigation is a best practice.

What every compliance lawyer needs to know about due process

– by Mary-James Young

Guidelines for assessing, raising, and pursuing due process issues in compliance and regulatory matters.

Compliance & Ethics Professional readers can earn CCB CEUs by reading selected pieces and taking a short quiz for each issue of the magazine.

Society of Corporate Compliance & Ethics

6500 Barrie Road, Suite 250

Minneapolis, MN 55435

United States of America

888-277-4977 | service@corporatecompliance.org

www.corporatecompliance.org