

Here's what's coming in the September issue of Compliance & Ethics Professional

And for prospective SCCE members, here's a peek at what you're missing. Don't miss out on another issue of Compliance & Ethics Professional. Become an SCCE member and receive this monthly magazine, valuable compliance and ethics resources, discounts on events, and much more. Click here to join SCCE today.

Meet May Jane Coulson
Manager of Inter-Institutional and Administrative Coordination, Office of the Administrator/CEO
Panama Canal Authority, Republic of Panama

Also available on these

– An interview by Adam Turteltaub

Some thoughts on antitrust risk assessment

– by Robert E. Connolly

Every company should have some level of competition law/ethics compliance training tailored to the type and amount of business risk it faces in each country in which it operates.

Binding Corporate Rules, Part 4: From creation to approval

– by Jan Dhont, Alyssa Cervantes, and Delphine Charlot

The application process for BCRs will help ensure that businesses are ready when the EU General Data Protection Regulation goes into effect.

Corruption within Compliance in higher education

– by Diane T. Hockenberry

Having a compliance program that doesn't deal with on-campus corruption won't keep an institution out of the headlines—as Penn State, Ohio State, and Florida State learned the hard way.

CCO Liability: Mixed messages from the SEC

– by Scott Killingsworth

At stake is whether – or when – compliance officers may be held personally responsible for failing to prevent a co-worker's misconduct.

Letter from the President

Stakes have risen for effective compliance

– by Gabriel L. Imperato

Letter from the CEO

“But I stayed at a Holiday Inn Express last night”

– by Roy Snell

Boehme of contention

Rule #1 of compliance training

– by Donna Boehme

Empirically speaking

The two-headed approach to third-party risk management

– by Jennifer Kugler

Ethics vs. or AND Compliance

Reducing risk by strengthening culture

– by Steven Priest

View from the front lines

devices

Online

Android

iPhone/iPad

Kindle

Don't be someone's teachable moment

– by Meric Craig Bloch

Kaplan's court

Compliance program assessments: Why you should bother

– by Jeffrey M. Kaplan

Social Skills

Collaboration tools can be a compliance nightmare

– by Melody Haase

The art of compliance

Confederate battle flag argument misses the point

– by Art Weiss

Byrne on governance

Why shareholders (should) care about compliance

– by Erica Salmon Byrne

The last word

No code? No training? How can that be a compliance program?

– by Joe Murphy

Pragmatic compliance in the real world, Part 2: A practitioner's view

– by Robert Streeter

Being an active part of your organization, not just an "enforcer," will help you sort it all out when a root cause analysis is necessary.

Engaging leadership in Ethics & Compliance, Part 1: Challenges and benefits

– by Jason L. Lunday

Seven erroneous perceptions often prevent leaders from being actively engaged in delivering the proper tone at the top.

Growing whistleblower and investigation risks for government contractors

– by Mary Beth Bosco, Robert K. Tompkins, and Kwamina Williford

Contractors can adopt a set of best practices to minimize the risk of whistleblower reprisal actions, defend against claims if they occur, and protect confidential business information.

Create a yearly compliance plan

– by MaryEllen O'Neill

Six key elements will help you keep up with changing regulations, update your policies, plan budget and training needs, and take your program to the next level.

Marketing compliance: Essentials to help your compliance and ethics program thrive

– by Walter E. Johnson

Use the seven Ps of marketing to develop a strategy and the four stages of the product life cycle when planning compliance activities to attract and keep your employees' attention.

Spotlight Interview: Compliance messages from the International Space Station

– an interview with Garrett E. Reisman by Adam Turteltaub

Compliance & Ethics Professional readers can earn CCB CEUs by reading selected pieces and taking a short quiz for each issue of the magazine.

Society of Corporate Compliance & Ethics

6500 Barrie Road, Suite 250

Minneapolis, MN 55435

United States of America

888-277-4977 |

service@corporatecompliance.org

www.corporatecompliance.org