- When it comes to your company's routine contracts, the right clause can really bolster your E&C program – and the wrong clause can wreck all your careful work. But which is which?
- From “quality agreements” to “reps and warranties,” more companies are using contracts to enforce third-party compliance – hear how to play offense and defense on this increasingly important playing field.
- One of the CEI's liveliest sessions is now a Webinar! From mock negotiations and in-the-trenches commentary, hear how “legal” and “compliance” need to work together – in drafting, and in negotiations -- when it comes to commercial transactions.
