Agenda

- Reasons for using outside experts for internal investigations
- Types of experts to consider
- Risks associated with using outside experts
- Best practices for working with outside experts

When/Why Use Third Parties?

- 1. Independence
- 2. Specialized expertise
- 3. Capacity or geographic reach

2

When/Why Use Third Parties?

- Independence
 - For example, certain investigations of C-level execs, board members, etc
 - Relationships family, financial, etc
 - · Past history with subject/department
- Appearance/reputation also matters, not just independence in fact
 - Certain critical/public investigations
- However, make sure the third party is independent
 - In larger organizations and larger third party firms, this isn't always obvious
 - Independence checks should be performed

When/Why Use Third Parties?

- Specialized expertise
 - eDiscovery
 - · Data extraction and analytics
 - Case management
 - Interviewing
 - Subject matter expertise (e.g. accounting fraud,)

5

When/Why Use Third Parties?

- Capacity or geographic reach
 - We have talented people, but not enough time
 - · Remote location, impractical for us to investigate

Policy Consideration

- Among the policies that should be in place pertaining to investigations, the issue of when to use third parties should be included
 - · Authority to hire third parties
 - · Under which circumstances

7

Group Discussion (1)

- Your organization has decided to utilize third parties to assist with an investigation triggered by a whistleblower call on your hotline. You have determined that three outside parties will be hired:
 - · Forensic accountant
 - An eDiscovery specialist (record collection and organization)
 - A technical subject mater expert (one of the allegation concerns whether a product you company billed the government for met the technical specifications in the contract)
- You have also decided that due to the sensitive and potentially material nature of the investigation, external legal counsel will be retained

Group Discussion (2)

 What risks are created by using this team of external parties in conducting your internal investigation?

Understanding the Goals

- What are the goals of the investigation?
 - · Determine who did it?
 - Determine how they did it?
 - · Determine damages?
 - Terminate guilty employees?
 - · Take legal action to recover?
 - · Criminal charges?
 - Minimize organizational liability?
- This may drive some of the decisions surrounding the use of outside experts

Outside Experts – Two Types

- · Consulting experts
- · Testifying experts
 - Subject to U.S. Federal Rule of Evidence 702 and Daubert challenge - A witness who is qualified as an expert by knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education may testify in the form of an opinion or otherwise if:
 - a) The expert's scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge will help the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue;
 - b) The testimony is based on sufficient facts or data;
 - c) The testimony is the product of reliable principles and methods; and
 - d) The expert has reliably applied the principles and methods to the facts of the case

Using Third Parties – Engagement Phase

- Key issues before engaging:
 - Background check
 - Firm
 - Individuals working on your engagement
 - Clarification of scope
 - Fee structure (fixed price, hourly, etc)
 - Engagement letter, proposal, standards

Third Parties & Privilege

- Use of third party consultants, retained by legal counsel, reinforces privileged status of investigation
 - Underscores that investigation not a routine business function
 - Facilitates legal counsel control of third parties' work product
 - Controls distribution of third parties' work product to protect privileged information

13

Privilege Issues with Third Parties

- Keeping legal counsel "in the loop" with third party consultants
- Risk of waiving privileges when third party consultants communicate exclusively with non-lawyers
- Third party consultants using subcontractors

Using Third Parties – Work Phase

- How should you deal with each of the following key issues?
 - Introduction, integrating into the "team"
 - Supervision of third party contractors
 - Responsibility for their work product
 - Third parties communicating with third parties
 - Managing the investigation
 - · Scope creep
 - Reports from outside experts
 - Closeout of engagement
