Culture is a Key Driver of Impact

Regulators have long identified culture as a driver of Compliance & Ethics strategy.

"... undertake an appropriate assessment of corporate efforts to create an organizational culture that encourages a commitment to compliance with the law and ethical conduct..."

US Federal Sentencing Guidelines

SFO

"Culture needs to be set from the top. Members of the corporation need to know that the corporation is committed to ethical standards... and that executives... are role models for ethical business conduct"

UK Serious Fraud Office

"... A corporation is directed by its management and management is responsible for a corporate culture in which criminal conduct is either discouraged or tacitly encouraged."

The Department of Justice

The Time For Building Relationships is NOT in the Middle of a Crisis

Setting the tone of a speak-up culture within the company often starts with leaders.

Employees report misdeeds 71% of the time when they believe top management is committed to ethics.

Front-line management are the gatekeepers of culture. They are in the most INFLUENTIAL position to foster an environment for employees to raise concerns and speak out.

- 57% of people will go to their direct supervisor when they observe misconduct

Do they LISTEN UP?

- Less than 2% of managers are formally trained around active listening
- Average manager interrupts employees within 17 seconds when someone is speaking.
